Make It A Good Day

Everywhere we go we are told to "Have a good day." It has become a meaningless phrase in most cases. Just like the question, "How are you?" We know that no one really wants to hear how we feel, and would be bored to tears if we sat them down and talked to them for an hour about it.

Whether or not the person who says it means it, it puts ideas into our heads and it is up to us to have a good day. We may not have control over the circumstances. We can't help it if our bosses (husbands or wives) are grouchy. We can't control the weather, or do much to change the world's energy crises. We can't feed the starving masses of the world, or heal all the wounds left by an uncaring world. But we can have a good day!

First, we can decide that it will be a good day. Then we can look for reasons to be happy and for things that will make others happy. Develop a sense of humor about life's little catastrophes. There will usually be something to laugh about.

Smile enthusiastically about what you are doing. As God's person, you are serving Him right where you are, whether it is cleaning the bathroom, mowing the lawn, kissing away the hurt from a child's scrapes and scratches, taking care of an invalid parent, or serving on the board of directors of a large corporation.

Be alert to those around you. Be ready to listen to another's problems. Sometimes they just need someone to listen. Be ready to share in the happiness of others.

Be alive and be thankful for life, and you will indeed "Have a good day."
