Words To Ponder.....

Psalm 3:5-6: "I lay down and slept; I woke again, for the Lord sustained me. I will not be afraid of many thousands of people who have set themselves against me all around."

Anxiety is deep and profound. Fear controls and dominates. Long days and nights become threatening. This life can be messy and cause us to have this anxiety, fear and threatening feeling. So, what are we do? GIVE to the one that sustains us!! Put our trust in God.

Kind David experienced all of these experiences in his full but messy life. He had to cope with a lot among his family, even a son out of rebellion that wanted him dead. Yet somehow David was able to roll all of this mess, anxiety and fear over on the Lord. He entrusted his troubles to the Lord, overwhelming as they were, and turned over and slept restfully.

David learned that faith in God could flourish in the soil of fear and that anxiety could be transformed into tranquility.
