"To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven." (Eccl 3:1).

The only thing that remains "constant" is "change". Really, that is what makes life so intriguing. Just when you think you have a hold on it, life throws you a curve ball.

It is during these times of uncertainty and fragility that we may ask God some questions, which are totally natural. Asking questions does not mean we have a lack of faith. Would anyone question Jesus' faith when He asked the Father why He had forsaken Him (Mt 27:46)? Just remember, God has a perfect purpose for everything that happens in creation (Ezek 14:23) and though we may not always know what that is (Deut 29:29), children of God believe His purpose works for our good (Rom 8:28).

As the earth blows its wind of change, we stay anchored in Christ (Heb 6:18,19)!

Eric D. Garner
