“And the LORD said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it” (Job 1:7).

Have you ever given too much credit to something or allowed something or some circumstance to wield power over you that it really didn’t have? For example, have you ever dreaded something so much that it caused you anxiety, but once you endured it, it wasn’t as bad as you thought (rollercoaster, needles, tests, etc.)?

Satan certainly is a formidable foe. His very name, in Hebrew and Greek, means “adversary.” He seeks to devour all that belongs to God (Gen 3:14-16; Mt 4:1-11; Eph 6:11; 2 Tim 2:26; 1 Pt 5:8); however, often we give Satan more credit than he deserves. We recognize several proofs about Satan when he set his sights on Job. First, Satan is not omnipresent like God – when he was “to” he wasn’t “fro.” Second, Satan is not omniscient like God – he thought Job would curse the name of God, but Job never did. Finally, Satan is not omnipotent like God – he had to get God’s permission to afflict Job.

Friends, while Satan is a foe, he is a defeated foe. The victory was won at the cross! Don’t give Satan power in your life. He doesn’t deserve it and is not worthy of it.
